

CLARK MACY GRAND MARSHAL

Clark Macy is this year's Grand Marshal! Clark is no stranger to the Camellia Festival currently assisting with the Coronation, Carnival, Parade and Band Awards Announcer. His is "the voice and narrator" of the Camellia Parade where he has been behind the microphone since the mid 1980's. Clark Macy has been a part of the Grandstands telling us about all the entries for over almost 4 decades. Besides the Camellia Festival he helps to announce and host other city events including Relay for Life, the Miss Temple City Ambassador Pageant, as well as many events involving Temple City High School Performing Arts. Clark also announced for the Tournament of Roses Honor Band and is thrilled that the Herald Trumpets are part of the 80th Temple City Camellia Festival Parade.

CLARK MACY

"The Voice of Temple City"

Clark's experience with the Camellia Festival started in the mid 1970's marching with Cub Scout Pack 169 out of Elementary School. While his participation continued, the groups he participated with changed as he went on to march with Oak Avenue Intermediate School and then the Temple City High School band. Clark became involved with Camellia Festival Committee in the early 1990's and served as General Chairman in 1996.

He and his wife Martha were proud that their daughter, Sabrina, continued the family tradition of becoming involved in the Temple City Community participating in the Temple City High School Performing Arts, becoming a Princess with the Miss Temple City Ambassador Program, and was General Chairman of the 79th Temple City Camellia Festival.

Clark is very honored to be added to the list of Camellia Festival Grand Marshals joining such notables as actors Kurt Russel & Valerie Bertinelli, football player Merlin Olsen, Temple City notables Steve Lindsay, Marie Corrigan, Kathy Perini, Josette Temple, Jerry Jambazian, Jon Howie and of course McGruff the Crime Dog.
